The BIA produced the first edition of My First Grade Book in 1960. During the 1950's the BIA adopted the Scott-Foresman basal reader series in which the children stars were Dick and Jane. My First Grade Book was considered as "supplemental" to the basal readers. Tacitly, My First Grade Book was a basal reader.

The history of books starts with the development of writing, and various other inventions such as paper and printing, and continues through to the modern day business of book printing. The earliest history of books actually predates what would conventionally be called "books" today and begins with tablets, scrolls, and sheets of papyrus .

The Second Folio, that is, the second edition, first issue, of the collected edition of Shakespeare's plays, set page-for-page from a corrected copy of the First Folio, 1623, edited by John Heminge (d. 1630) and Henry Condell (d. 1627). This is the edition of which William Prynne complained that it was printed on best crown paper.
